

TAFF-DDU: ONLY 60p

Taff-Ddu is a joint fan-zine produced by 1980 TAFF candidates Jim Barker and Dave Langford to raise money for the TAFF fund. Available at Albacon for 60p, or by post from either Dave or Jim at 75p. US cost is $1.50 ($2 by post) from Joyce Scrivner. Addresses below....

DAVE LANGFORD FOR TAFF!

NO, I DON'T UNDERSTAND WHAT
HE'S ON ABOUT EITHER ...

Taff-Ddu, also known as Twll-Ddu 17, is only available for money (TD completists take note!). It's well over twice the size of the usual Twll-Ddu—30 sides, each covered in Langford writing and Barker artwork (and sometimes even Barker writing and Langford artwork)—and all money received goes to the worthy cause of TAFF, the fund which sends ambassadors between the UK and US (see TAFF ballot for full details). Buy now!

CHRIS PRIEST: 'I read TAFF-DDU this morning, at 8.00 am, before breakfast, indeed even before waking properly. It is a rare and wonderful thing for anything to raise even a bleary smile of awareness that early: TAFF-DDU had me wheezing with laughter... It is all first-class material.'

ADDRESSES: Dave Langford, 22 Northumberland Avenue, Reading, Berks, RG2 7PW, UK.
Jim Barker, 113 Windsor Road, Falkirk, Central Scotland, FK2 5DB, UK.
Joyce Scrivner, 2528 15th Avenue S, Minneapolis, MN 55404, USA. (NB: Joyce may not receive copies until May—but order now!) Taff-Ddu, the joint effort of two Hugo nominees, is not available free except to our nominators, those who helped with production and those we hope will help with publicity. TAFF needs the money!
